

The Future of the Gentiles in the Prophets

Paul R. Raabe, St. Louis

19-22 February, 2018

The Lutheran School of Theology, Gothenburg
offers an intensive course in the Old Testament:

The Future of the Gentiles in the Prophets

We Christians now live in the age to come promised by ancient Israel's prophets. It was inaugurated by the public ministry of Jesus and will reach its full consummation when he comes again in glory. In this course we will study what the B.C. prophets had to say about the age to come in order to grow in thankfulness for our present and future in the Lord.

Instructor: Rev. Dr. Paul R. Raabe, professor of Exegetical Theology at Concordia Seminary, St. Louis. Dr. Raabe is the author of Psalm Structures: A Study of Psalms with Refrains (Sheffield Academic Press), the commentary on Obadiah in The Anchor Yale Bible (Yale University Press), and is currently working on a commentary on the Book of Isaiah.
